Statement of the Substance of the Interview

In a telephone interview dated September 12, 2005 with the Examiner, claims 1, 7, 13 and 20 were discussed.

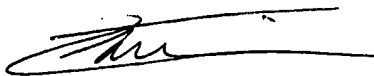

Applicant's representative explained how the at least one pair of probes are activated in the device and contend that Maxim fails to teach the limitations. The Examiner explained how the limitations, specifically the activation of the at least one pair of probes are by the prior art. Further, applicant's representative discussed possible claim language, however, no agreement was reached and Applicant will submit a response to the prior Office Action.

Respectfully submitted,

OGILVY RENAULT
